DAILY ITINERARY

DAY 1

Arrive to the wonderful village of Leenane. The village of Leenane is snugly situated at the head of Irelands only fjord Killary Fjord. It is well known in the last couple of years for the filming of John B. Keane's famous play " The Field", directed by Jim Sheridan and starring Richard Harris and John Hurt. There are a couple of pubs and restaurants in the village where you can have a very enjoyable evening.

Warm welcome and chance to settle in. You will be given your route pack and general information at the accommodation to study overnight. Depending on your arrival time, we will allocate bikes and equipment (this could be done the following morning).

DAY 2

You leave Leenane after breakfast and take the direction of Tullycross. On the way you will cycle along the Killary Fjord, the turf fields, and the famous Connemara lakes. You will be passing Kilmore Abbey where you can stop for lunch or to visit their beautiful victorian gardens. You can also decide to stop in the Connemara National Park to climb Diamand hill and enjoy the amazing view from the top (2 hours walk all together). You will stay tonight in the charming village of Tullycross overlooking the atlantic coast.

DAY 3

From Tullycross you are heading back to Leenane via a different route that will take you along the Atlantic coast with amazing views on the ocean. You will cycle between montain and ocean and have the chance to discover the beautiful beach of Glassilaun where you can stop for a little walk. You finish your tour in Leenane.
